

TOWN OF SUPERIOR
ORDINANCE NO. O-9
SERIES 2022

AN ORDINANCE OF THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE TOWN OF SUPERIOR REPEALING AND REENACTING ARTICLE IX OF CHAPTER
10 OF THE SUPERIOR MUNICIPAL CODE, REGARDING THE POSSESSION AND USE OF WEAPONS IN THE TOWN

WHEREAS, gun violence poses a grave public safety threat in the Town. Statewide in Colorado, guns are the leading cause of death for children under 18 and cause the deaths of nearly two-thirds of women who are killed by intimate partners;

WHEREAS, Colorado has the 18th-highest gun death rate among the 50 states and saw elevated levels of mass shootings in 2020 and early 2021, when a mass shooter killed 10 people at King Soopers in Boulder using an assault weapon and large-capacity magazines;

WHEREAS, assault weapons are semiautomatic firearms with large ammunition capacities and specific features that are useful in military and criminal applications yet are unnecessary in shooting sports or self-defense. These weapons include semiautomatic assault rifles that can accept large-capacity magazines holding up to 100 rounds, and with features that enhance concealability, control, and the ability to fire many dozens of rounds without pause. They also include assault pistols and high-capacity "combat" shotguns;

WHEREAS, the Town has a higher population density than more rural parts of Colorado and is characterized by the presence of traffic and commuters, and business districts, and these areas have a greater number of potential targets for large-scale school and workplace violence, mass shootings, and interpersonal gun violence, and therefore, these demographic attributes create a special need to restrict weapons that facilitate mass shootings, including assault weapons, trigger activators, and large-capacity magazines;

WHEREAS, assault weapons are semiautomatic versions of firearms, and although these semiautomatic versions of military firearms are marketed to civilians, they are military-grade weapons: the U.S. military calls semiautomatic rifle fire the "most important firing technique during fast-moving, modern combat" and the "most accurate technique of placing a large volume of fire.";

6/8/2022

WHEREAS, assault weapons fire bullets with a velocity three times greater than 9 mm handguns, leaving softball-sized exit wounds that are much more likely to kill than to incapacitate victims;

WHEREAS, perpetrators of the five deadliest shootings in modern U.S. history (Las Vegas, Orlando, Sandy Hook, Sutherland Springs, and El Paso) used assault rifles with military-style features, and Colorado's deadliest mass shooters have also used assault rifles or pistols, including the Aurora movie theater shooter, who used an assault rifle and a 100-round drum magazine; and the King Soopers shooter, who used an AR-style pistol that an ATF expert described as "made for the military and designed for short-range combat";

WHEREAS, researchers have found that firearm purchasers with criminal histories are more likely to buy assault weapons, and that probability was even higher if purchasers have more serious criminal histories;

WHEREAS, assault weapons are regularly used in violent crime beyond mass shootings, including violence against police officers;

WHEREAS, assault weapons are inappropriate for civilian use due to their unique features that allow shooters to rapidly fire a large number of rounds—more than are ever needed for lawful self-defense—while maintaining control of the firearm in order to accurately target and kill more victims;

WHEREAS, in addition to military-style assault rifles, gun manufacturers have also begun marketing AK-style and AR-style pistols with the same features that enable a shooter to continue shooting the weapon numerous times without losing control over the weapon, and these pistols are also designed to fire rifle rounds capable of penetrating body armor, but that are concealable like handguns;

WHEREAS, AK-style and AR-style pistols pose a similar if not identical threat to public safety as do short-barreled rifles, because of their short length and ability to fire rifle rounds that can penetrate ballistic resistant vests worn by patrol officers, and because their lethality is on par with highly restricted short-barreled rifles, yet they have almost entirely evaded regulation. Armor-piercing, concealable firearms have been used in murders across the country, including at the 2021 King Soopers shooting and at the 2019 mass shooting in Dayton, Ohio;

WHEREAS, high-capacity "tactical" or "combat" shotguns are assault weapons modeled after firearms originally used for riot control by foreign law enforcement, and after the Armsel Striker, popular in South Africa and marketed in the U.S. as the Street Sweeper and designated as a "destructive device" under the National Firearms Act such that gun makers designed workaround weapons as powerful as the Street Sweeper that inflict catastrophic injuries by rapidly firing a dozen or more shotgun slugs, and these weapons are unfit for lawful sporting or self-defense uses;

WHEREAS, at the 2017 Mandalay Bay shooting in Las Vegas, Nevada, the shooter modified semiautomatic assault rifles with bump stocks so they could fire at speeds approaching fully automatic machine guns. Bump stocks, as well as binary triggers, burst triggers, rotating trigger cranks, and other after-market rapid-fire trigger activators enable firing many rounds per second and serve no lawful self-defense function;

WHEREAS, several years after the Las Vegas shooting drew attention to the dangers of bump stocks that give shooters automatic firepower, the ATF adopted a federal rule effectively banning their possession. However, state and local action is needed to restrict other rapid-fire trigger activators, and legal challenges to the federal bump stock rule are still pending;

WHEREAS, large-capacity magazines are ammunition feeding devices that hold more than 10 rounds and may hold as many as 100 rounds of ammunition. Mass shootings that involve large-capacity magazines result in nearly five times as many people shot compared to mass shootings that do not involve high-capacity magazines. These magazines increase the number of victims injured and killed by enabling shooters to fire more rounds before reloading—a critical moment when many criminal shooters are stopped before they can further increase their death tolls;

WHEREAS, large-capacity magazines also make gun violence far more lethal in situations other than mass shootings, including interpersonal gun violence and shootings by organized crime or street groups, and firearms equipped with large-capacity magazines account for 22 to 36% of crime guns in most places, and research shows upwards of 40% of crime guns used in serious violent crimes, including murders of police officers, are equipped with large-capacity magazines;

WHEREAS, the Board of Trustees is unaware of any reported incidents where someone engaged in self-defense fired more than 10 rounds of a large-capacity magazine to fend off an attack. Despite analyzing several decades of evidence about defensive shootings, gun-rights groups raising legal challenges to magazine restrictions in other jurisdictions have been unable to identify a single incident anywhere in the nation in which someone needed to fire more than 10 rounds at once in lawful self-defense, and conversely, numerous high-profile mass shootings nationally and in Colorado have been carried out with large-capacity magazines, including the King Soopers shooting and the Aurora movie theater shooting. Nationally, the five deadliest mass shootings of the last decade all involved the use of large-capacity magazines holding more than 10 rounds of ammunition;

WHEREAS, in 1994, a federal ban on the manufacture, transfer, and possession of assault weapons and the transfer and possession of large-capacity magazines was enacted, but the law included a 10-year sunset provision and in 2004, Congress allowed the law to expire;

WHEREAS, studies show that the federal assault weapon ban resulted in a marked decrease in the use of assault weapons and large-capacity magazines in crime;

WHEREAS, one study found that in several major cities, the share of recovered crime guns that were assault weapons declined by 32% to 40% after the federal ban was adopted, and another study in Virginia found a clear decline in the percentage of crime guns that were equipped with large-capacity magazines after the federal ban was enacted;

WHEREAS, federal law restricting assault weapon and large-capacity magazines also had a significant protective effect in lowering mass shooting fatalities, and during the 10-year period the law was in effect, mass shooting fatalities were 70% less likely to occur compared to when the ban was not in effect, and the number of high-fatality mass shootings fell by 37%, and the number of people dying in such shootings fell by 43% after the ban lapsed, there was a 183% increase in high-fatality mass shootings and a 239% increase in deaths from such shootings;

WHEREAS, state-level prohibitions on large-capacity magazines have been shown to reduce the frequency and lethality of the deadliest mass shootings—strong evidence that regional and local legislation can be effective even absent a federal ban, and a peer-reviewed study published in the American Journal of Public Health found that "states without an LCM ban experienced significantly more high-fatality mass shootings and a higher death rate from such incidents," seeing more than double the number of such shootings and three times the number of deaths from high-fatality mass shootings, as compared to states that ban large-capacity magazines;

WHEREAS, survey data and gun-industry supplied statistics suggest that, at most, only a small fraction of U.S. gun owners possess semiautomatic assault rifles and private ownership of these weapons is concentrated in the hands of super-owners who have 10 or more firearms, and similar claims about the ubiquity of large-capacity magazines are contradicted by the fact that most magazines for handguns hold 10 rounds or fewer;

WHEREAS, because assault weapons, trigger activators, and large-capacity magazines are designed for and have repeatedly been used to inflict mass casualties and enable other violent crimes, and the fact that these weapons and accessories are ill-suited to and unnecessary for responsible self-defense, and are not chosen or used by most law-abiding gun owners for this purpose, the Board of Trustees finds that it is in the best interests of the public health, safety and welfare to prohibit the possession, sale, manufacture, and transfer of assault weapons, rapid-fire trigger activators, and large-capacity magazines;

WHEREAS, there are certain areas where firearms pose an acute risk to the health and well-being of children, office workers and members of the public;

WHEREAS, the presence of firearms in government buildings and offices, polling places, ballot counting facilities and public demonstrations poses a serious threat to First Amendment rights, voting rights and the functioning of our democracy;

WHEREAS, firearms pose a substantial danger in the vicinity of intoxicated people at facilities that serve alcohol, as research demonstrates a strong link between alcohol use and domestic violence, gun crimes and self-inflicted firearm injuries;

WHEREAS, waiting periods are consistent with the Second Amendment and fit squarely within the American tradition of ensuring responsible gun ownership through reasonable firearm regulations, and the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit upheld California's 10-day waiting period law against a constitutional challenge in Silvester v. Harris, 843 F.3d 816, 819, 828 (9th Cir. 2016), pointing out that there is "nothing new in having to wait for the delivery of a weapon. Before the age of superstores and superhighways, most folks could not expect to take possession of a firearm immediately upon deciding to purchase one. As a purely practical matter, delivery took time." Id. at 828;

WHEREAS, there are gaps in current laws that make it easy for people with dangerous histories to purchase widely available firearms parts without a background check and easily convert them into firearms without a serial number; and

WHEREAS, this Ordinance recognizes the enactment of Senate Bill 21-256 and is intended to be consistent with that law.

NOW BE IT ORDAINED BY THE BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE TOWN OF SUPERIOR, COLORADO, as follows:

Sec. 10-9-150. – Providing rifle or shotgun to minors.

(a) No person shall provide a rifle or shotgun with or without remuneration to any minor under circumstances that cause the minor to be in violation of Section 10-9-140. Knowledge of the minor's age shall not be an element of this offense.

(b) Defenses. It is a specific defense to a charge of violation of this Section that:

(1) The firearm was located within a room or closet from which all minors were excluded by locks;

(2) The firearm was stored in a locked container; or

(3) The firearm was used by a minor at such minor's residence with the permission of the minor's parent or legal guardian, for the purpose of exercising the rights contained in C.R.S. §§ 18-1-704 or 18-1-704.5.

Sec. 10-9-180. – Parent or legal guardian liability.

(a) No parent or legal guardian, having actual or constructive knowledge of illegal possession of a firearm by a minor shall fail to either:

(1) Immediately take possession of the firearm; or

(2) Immediately notify law enforcement authorities of the details of the illegal possession so that law enforcement authorities can act to take possession of the firearm.

(b) This Section does not create a duty on a parent or legal guardian to search the bedroom of a minor for firearms.

(c) As used in this Section, illegal possession of a firearm by a minor means possession in violation of Section 10-9-140 or any provision of state or federal law concerning possession of a firearm by a minor.

Sec. 10-9-190. – Defenses.

(a) It is an affirmative defense to a charge of violating Sections 10-9-30, 10-9-50, 10-9-60, 10-9-80 and 10-9-90 that the defendant was:

(2) Reasonably exercising the right to keep and bear arms in defense of the defendant's or another's home, person and property or in aid of the civil power when legally thereto summoned.

(b) It is an affirmative defense to a charge of violating Sections 10-9-90, 10-9-100, and 10-9-110 that the defendant was:

(1) In the defendant's own dwelling or place of business or on property owned or under the defendant's control at the time;

(3) Charged with carrying a knife that was a hunting or fishing knife carried by the defendant for sport use.

(c) It is a specific defense to a charge of violating Sections 10-9-90 and 10-9-100 that the defendant was carrying the weapon pursuant to a concealed weapons permit valid under the statutes of the State of Colorado.

(d) It is a specific defense to a charge of violating Sections 10-9-30 and 10-9-90 that the loaded firearm or gas or mechanically operated gun was possessed or discharged in a building with the permission of the property owner and the projectile did not leave the building.

(e) It is a specific defense to a charge of violating Section 10-9-40 that:

(1) The person had a valid permit for such weapon pursuant to federal law at the time of the offense; or

(2) That the illegal weapon was an assault weapon accompanied by a valid certificate of ownership.
